

Jump into the English pool

125th wk. Joe

If we want to learn English, we should immerse ourselves one hundred percent in the language. That's the first step of learning English. To immerse ourselves in English is to first, expose ourselves to English speaking zones. It will help us listen, read, write, and speak in English. For example, Let's make English speaking friends who don't speak Korean so we have to use only English to communicate with them. If it is hard to find English friends maybe we can find a tutor and then find friends later. It is a temporary immersion experience but still our English ability is improving when we are only using English with them. If our English is not enough to communicate naturally with our friends it will be better if we find our tutors first.

Second, Try to spend a lot of time with your English friends and tutor. When we spend more time with them, we are able to have more conversations in English. In that case, we can study plenty of different words and idioms. Also, sometimes we will fight or debate with them and that is a really good way to learn English because if we are fighting or debating, we need to express and explain our thoughts clearly. For example, if we have an experience with culture shock, we need to explain very well about differences between our culture and their culture. So we can understand each other better. If we can understand the culture better we can more fully utilize the language. If we only have tutors, our tutors can list up the topics of situations and he or she can teach us all of the situations. In other words, gradually exposing ourselves to a vast variety of English speaking scenario.

Finally, The last step of Immersion will be dreaming in English. We cannot choose the language in which we would like to dream but, It happens naturally after spending lots of time exposed to English. To dream in English, We must start to think in English more than our mother tongue. We should put extra efforts into increasing our English ability. and it will eventually make us dream in English. It's only from the valley that the mountain seems high. When we finally dream in English, expound upon the dream to our friends or tutors. Relish the achievement because it will encourage us to push ourselves further into the immersion pool. Therefore, using only English is the best way to learn. Perhaps, getting a English speaking boyfriend or girlfriend could be another way to immerse ourselves in English.

Are you ready to jump into the English pool? It will make you a better english speaker. A good start is finding foreign buddies who speak english. Then, going on a trip with them and picking their brain. After you return, find a good tutor. All of this will do you little good without jumping into the english pool. So let's jump!